ONE HUNDRED YEARS OF SOLITUDE.

The novel tells the story of the rise and fall of the mythical town of Macondo through the history of the Buendía family. It is a rich and brilliant chronicle of life and death, and the tragicomedy of human kind. In the noble, ridiculous and beautiful story of the Buendía family, one sees all the humanity, just as in the history, myths, growth, and decay of Macondo; one sees all of Latin America. Love and lust, war and revolution, riches and poverty, youth and senility – the variety of life, the endlessness of death, the search for peace and truth – these universal themes dominate the novel. Whether he is describing an affair of passion or the voracity of capitalism and the corruption of government, Gabriel García Márquez always writes with the simplicity, ease, and purity that are the mark of a master.
